

Ford Focus - the Small Car with a Brain

Ford has introduced Focus in the year 2000. But, it was a total failure during that period due to a variety of problems the car owners faced after buying the car. Then, the company released more updated models of Ford Focus along with its other models like Ford Fiesta and Ford Galaxy. However, its latest Ford Focus released during 2006 has enhanced features and is a proven competitor in the small car segment. Ford Focus has cushy seats with a compact interior and gives a soft and smooth ride. The body style and the running gear attract many buyers and the three door hatchback is practical and economical. Focus can hold a ton of cargo and it has a 151 horsepower engine. Focus is also considered sporty due to its strong acceleration and accurate steering with the help of its sports suspension.

Some of the unique features of Ford Focus which makes them superior to other models are It can carry up to five people and the interior is roomy and comfortable. Even tall passengers can sit comfortably due to the elevated interior which is a distinct feature in the class of small cars. Focus C-Max and Ford Coupe models give good mileage in the small car segment with EPA figure of about 26 cities / 35 highways. Ford has produced a variety of cars to cater the needs of different segments of the society. Ford Focus cars serve the small car owners and hence are priced very reasonably. The Used Focus cars can be purchased by anybody who wishes to become a car owner as it comes with a very affordable price tag. Most of the cars that are available in the market have one or two types of body styles. But, the Ford Focus has four types namely the ZXW wagon, ZX3 three door hatchbacks, ZX5 five door hatchbacks and the ZX4 sedan. The new street appearance with fog lamps, rear bumper, lower air deflector and spoiler gives an appealing look to the Focus car series. Some other extra goodies like Speedo oil temp conversion, electric sunroof, full heated leather and sleek interior has made the small car more attractive and stylish. Ford Focus is superior to other small Ford cars as it has excellent air conditioning, glossy mirrors and rear screen and driving the car is a wonderful experience. The engine is powerful and the small car has smooth gear change. Used Galaxy cars are also a good deal as it is durable and require less maintenance charges.
